

I watched a discussion on the merits of airing of an anti Kerry program and as stated by the spokesman for Sinclair Broadcasting. The company is forcing their affiliate stations to air the program in prime time days before the election. As stated in the discussion by the spokesman for Sinclair, they have invited John Kerry to a discussion on the program after the showing and stated that this is their way of abiding by the "fairness" rule. What was stated is not fair nor do I believe that Sinclair should use the public airwaves for such an overt partisan program and call it "news". Please look in to this program, before its airing, and determine its "fairness". Thank you
